All leaders in the Tri-State Bowling tournament were dislodged in a pin melee at the Island City alleys yesterday when six outside teams invaded the city and the best of the local clubs performed.

The Edelweiss team, leaders in the Tri-State league, shot into first place on the late shift with a count of 2691. "Doc" Mueller's crew was traveling at a 2600 clip up until the last game when they slumped to 845. Art Salzmann and "Skip" Bleuer did stellar work for the team. But the honors for the Edelweiss men did not end there. Burns Harney shot into first place in the singles with 657, dislodging both W. A. Strayer of this city and "Dad" Hopkins of Grinnell, Iowa, who were leading with 640. Burns started with 232, then shot 246, and it looked for a time as though he would endanger the 700 mark, but several bad breaks in the final game gave him 179. Art Salzmann and John Fredeen of the Edelweiss rolled into second place in the doubles, getting 1114.

The Martin-Hammel combination of Des Moines rolled into first place in the doubles, the former getting 589 and his partner 594, for a 1174 total. Johnson and Harney of the Edelweiss team then proceeded to roll into third place in the doubles with 1089. They were tied by the Wagle-Locker and Haley-Rader teams of Des Moines.

Aside from Harney's brilliant work stands out that of "Dad" Hopkins, the veteran Grinnell bowler, who shot 640 in his singles, and with his partner, Blood, romped into fourth place in the doubles. Hopkins will be back in Rock Island Sunday to roll off his tie with W. A. Strayer of this city.

The FitzGibbons five of Moline retained second place in the team event, the C. C. Tafts of Des Moines going into third place with 2650. The Lincoln Stars of Cedar Rapids walked into fourth place and the Cross Country of Rock Island landed fifth, the Flynns being moved down to sixth place. E. Disalov of Des Moines rolled into third place in the singles on the late shift, with 600, and A. Montillon of Cedar Rapids is fifth with 590, with G. Rader of Des Moines trailing with 584 in seventh position.

Today the Iowa City bowlers come to roll in all events and some of the local pin stars will shoot their doubles and singles. The scores:

THE HISTORIANS SOMETIMES OVERDO IT—By Goldberg

THREE EYE CLUBS BECOMING FARMS

Rockford Worried Over Peoria Situation and Hopes Salary Limit Will Be Held Down.

While Rock Island's fate in professional baseball remains as perplexing as ever, other teams in the Three-Eye league are becoming kindergartens for the major league teams. Tinker has Peoria lined up for the Cubs and it was announced yesterday that Davenport would become a farm for the Cleveland Indians. With these two clubs practically second teams of the major leagues what chance will the other clubs have and Rockford is already becoming worried over the situation, according to the following story which appeared in a Chicago paper yesterday:

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 21.—Joe Tinker is said to have created in Peoria the most enthusiasm the town has manifested in years over baseball. Peoria is now talking about a season's attendance of 80,000. Tinker is pledged to give the Distillers not less than 10 players. Peoria's ball club plans a dancing party which is expected to net $500. Tinker, Mordecai Brown, Schulte, Zimmerman, Flack and Prendergast of the Cubs are to be present.

Other club managers in the Three-Eye, while welcoming Tinker as a part owner, are questioning what will be the result concerning the league salary limit, which is $1,800 this year. Several of the managers are laboring earnestly to get a team signed under this amount and they would like to know what Joe thinks about it and what class of men he intends to plant in Peoria.

DANS' SCRAPPERS ALL HAVE FIGHTS

Andy to Meet Jack White, Evers Tackles Joe Burger and Henderson Meets Whitney.

George Dans is going to match his brother Andy with Jack White, brother of Charley White, of Chicago, for a 10-round go in Iowa City March 8. The bout will be part of a semi-windup affair. Eddie Evers of this city and Joe Burger of Chicago to fill in the other end of the bill. Evers and Andy Dans are working out daily in the gym at the Rock Island Industrial home for their respective bouts and George Temperature at Grand Rapids, Mich., having stood recently at 56 above, the same as on July 5 last, the atmospheric sage of that place ingeniously declared that "the prediction here is for a sudden, heavy drop of the mercury," thereby hugging the safe side with what might be termed ardor.

CHICAGO'S BOWLERS LEAD AT ROCKFORD

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 21.—Fisher-Bruck of the O'Leary's of Chicago rolled into first place in the doubles at the northern Illinois bowling tournament yesterday with a score of 1,231. Schmidt-Braun of Aurora is third with 1,207.

In the singles contest Jack Reilly of the Butler Giants of Chicago is first with 649. A. Gustin of the Brucks of Chicago being second with 637.

LOCAL MAN OFFICIAL IN BASKET TOURNEY

Maurice Driggs, former star of the Rock Island Y. M. C. A. basketball team, is slated to officiate at the preliminary state high school basketball tourney to be held at Jacksonville, Ill., the last three days of this week. Driggs, who has officiated at a number of high school games in the tri-city, has a reputation for being one of the fastest men on the floor in this vicinity. In the Davenport-Rock Island high school tilt played in this city, in which the locals lost by three points, 32 to 29, Driggs gave perfect satisfaction. He has also officiated for the Augustana college five for the past two years. Friday night the fast work of Driggs as referee of the Cedar Rapids-Davenport game created a stir among the pretzel fans, but the Davenport management was impressed by the local man's ability, for he was engaged for the Clinton game on March 3.

WORLD CHAMPION HIGH JUMPER RETIRES

George Horine breaking a world's record.

San Francisco, Feb. 21.—The call of "back to the soil" has lured from track and field athletics one of its most picturesque and successful figures—George Horine of the Olympic club, San Francisco—who retires holding the national running high jump championship, and with memories of having achieved two of the greatest vertical leaps ever accomplished by a human being.

Horine does not quit the sport on which he reflected so much credit as an undefeated champion, but before he decided to devote all his time to the three things dearest to his heart—his wife, his baby daughter, and his farm at Winston, Cal.—he had woven a web of success in his specialty that few athletes ever attain.

In the long annals of track and field athletics perhaps no more interesting character can be found than this farmer-lad from San Diego, who, when a junior at Leland Stanford university in 1912 broke the running high jump record which had stood as a world's mark since 1885, when it was established by Michael F. Sweeney of New York. A short time later Horine added another fraction of an inch to his record.

Then, after dropping virtually into obscurity following his defeat at the Olympic games, Horine came back last year and, in the national championships at the Panama-Pacific exposition, regained much of his faded prestige by defeating a field which comprised nearly all the best jumpers in the United States. He also upset the old tradition of sport that "they never come back."

It was on March 29, 1912, on the athletic field of Leland Stanford University, Horine wrote his name in indelible letters in track and field history, when he leaped across a horizontal bar 6 feet 6 1/2 inches above the ground, breaking Sweeney's long-standing record of 6 feet 6 1/2 inches. On May 18 of the same year, in the Pacific Coast tryouts for the Olympic games, the farmer boy again added to his fame by clearing 6 feet 7 inches, making a world's record that stood until 1914 when Edward Beeson of the Olympic club, San Francisco, topped the mark by five-sixteenths of an inch. Beeson's success can be traced directly to Horine, for it was by copying the style of the latter that Beeson developed his ability in the running high jump.

Just as long as critics of form in athletics exist, just so long will Horine's method of jumping come in for a round share of adverse comment. It was Horine who evolved the "western roll," which is the secret of his remarkable prowess, and there are plenty of critics who contend that his system of rolling across the bar after he has raised himself to the level of the stick makes him an acrobat rather than a high jumper. Yet the fact remains that some of the world's best authorities have pronounced Horine's style faultless, adhering in all respects to the rules governing the sport, and if there had been the least doubt about the legality of the style the westerner in all probability could not have competed in the Olympic games at Stockholm.

Davenport Walloped Again.

For the second time this season, the Cedar Rapids high school basketball quintet triumphed over the Davenport team in a fast game. Friday evening in the Davenport gym by the score of 26 to 16. At no time were the Davenport lads in danger of winning, they playing a loose contest all the way through, perking up for a few minutes but several times in the entire encounter.
